Champagne & Sparkling Wines

DRAPPIER has no shortage of historic roots. An eighth-generation family business, the house was founded in 1808, and occupies magnificent twelfth-century cellars built by Cistercian monks. Indeed, it was members of this monastic order who travelled up from Burgundy to the Aube region nearly a millennium ago, and planted the early ancestor of Pinot Noir. Today, Drappier owns fifty-five hectares of vineyard around the town of Urville, with another fifty hectares under contract in the Côte des Bar, Montagne de Reims, and Côte des Blancs.

VINCENT TESTULAT also has a long history: the marque was established in 1862, while the cellars themselves are seventeenth-century. The fifth generation of the Testulat family is now in charge. Their seventeen hectares of vineyards lie in the Marne Valley, near Épernay, and are dominated by Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier; the Rosé is a fifty-fifty blend of these two varieties, with all the biscuity richness one would expect. The Blanc de Blancs, from 100% Chardonnay, provides a contrasting style that majors on finesse.

Though Prosecco continues to enjoy its well-deserved turn in the limelight, Europe offers an extraordinary breadth of sparkling wine styles.

The name ROTARI derives from the Longobard King Autari, who fought one of the most important battles along the valleys of this territory in his conquest of Italy and made history with his famous "Edict of Rotari", a book about the rules of winemaking. Rotari is the specialist sparkling wine-producing arm of MEZZACORONA.

This wine is produced solely from Rotari-owned vineyards in the cool Adige Valley, north of Trento. All the grapes are hand-harvested for optimal finesse in the finished wine. Rotari Rosé is made in the traditional method, with second fermentation in the bottle and 24 months' ageing on the lees.

The Whites

RIESLING is a white grape variety which originated in the Rhine region of Germany. Riesling is an aromatic grape variety displaying flowery, almost perfumed, aromas as well as high acidity. It is used to make dry, semi-sweet, sweet, and sparkling white wines. Riesling wines are usually varietally pure and are seldom oaked. As of 2004, Riesling was estimated to be the world's 20th most grown variety at 48,700 hectares (120,000 acres) but in terms of importance for quality wines, it is usually included in the "top three" white wine varieties together with Chardonnay and Sauvignon blanc. Riesling is a variety which is highly "terroir-expressive", meaning that the character of Riesling wines is greatly influenced by the wine's place of origin.

CHARDONNAY grapes are very neutral, with many of the flavours commonly associated with the grape being derived from such influences as terroir and oak. It is vinified in many different styles, from the lean, crisply mineral wines of Chablis, France, to New World wines with oak, and tropical fruit flavours. In cool climates (such as Chablis and the Carneros AVA of California), Chardonnay tends to be medium to light body with noticeable acidity and flavors of green plum, apple, and pear. In warmer locations. The flavours become more citrus, peach, and melon, while in very warm locations, more fig and tropical fruit notes such as banana and mango come out. Wines that have gone through malolactic fermentation tend to have softer acidity and fruit flavours with buttery mouthfeel and hazelnut notes.

JOEL GOTT is a fifth generation West Coast winemaker and restaurateur who has remarkable energy and flair when it comes to sourcing and blending his ridiculously good-value, expressive wines. The labels reflect the contents: stylish modern classics, restrained and yet with a typical Californian generosity.

JEAN-MARC BROCARD began with just one hectare, a gift from his father-in-law when he married into a winegrowing family. He has since expanded to 200 hectares, of which eighty are biodynamic, and is widely recognised as one of Chablis's leading producers. The approach is one of minimal intervention in both vineyard and winery: cultivation is practically organic throughout, with ploughing in place of herbicides, predators instead of pesticides, manure rather than fertiliser, and as little spraying as the grapes' health requires. The results are pure, unadorned expressions of the great chalk slopes of Chablis.

From the village of Préhy, this wine is from a south-facing vineyard. The soil is Kimmeridgian, with alternate layers of limestone and clay/marl containing fossilised marine bodies. The vines are thirty years old.

ALBARIÑO is one of the most distinctive white wine grapes in Spain. Its heartlands are in Galicia, in Spain's rain-sodden north-west, and in Portugal's Vinho Verde region, where it is known as Alvarinho and Cainho Branco. In the past, it was commonly mixed with other local grapes such as Loureiro, Godello, Caiño, Arinto or Treixadura to produce blended wines, but since the mid 1980s the grape's full potential has been realised and appreciated for single varietal bottlings.

PRUNUS is from Portugal's historic Dão region created by former wine buyer Natalia Jessa. They are designed to represent the character of region within a modern, accessible style, as well as offering startling value for money.

The grapes come from 20- to 50-year-old vines planted on granite, clay and limestone soils. They were hand-harvested in the second and third weeks of September.

The Reds

BODEGA NORTON In 1885, the Buenos Aires to Mendoza railway opened, cementing the significance of this emerging wine-growing region high in the Andean foothills. Ten years later, Edmund Norton planted the first vines in Mendoza's Luján de Cuyo district. At 900-1,100 metres, the altitude moderates the temperature, causing an extended ripening season, and also exposes the vines to more ultraviolet light, which encourages the development of colour and tannin in the black-skinned varieties. The result is whites packed with vibrant flavour and good natural acidity, and well-structured, food-friendly reds. Privada is selected from vines between fifty and eighty years old, growing in vineyards at up to 1,100 metres above sea level. Grapes are hand picked and selected into twenty-kilo baskets.

The UMANI RONCHI story began in 1957 when Gino Umani Ronchi established a small farm in the heart of the Verdicchio Classico region. It was just a few years later that the Bianchi-Bernetti family purchased the farm and although they retained the original name, they have certainly put their own indelible stamp on it. With 210 hectares under vine in Castelli di Jesi, Conero and Abruzzo, and a dedicated winemaking facility in each of these regions, they have achieved scale whilst still retaining an unwavering focus on typicity and quality. The result is a range of wines which highlights both the versatility and the quality potential of the Marche's and Abruzzo's native grape varieties. The grapes come from vineyards located predominantly in the provinces of Chieti and Teramo, trained using the tendone system. Harvest was carried out by hand in late September and early October.

ANTINORI The Antinori family have been producing wine in Tuscany for six centuries, and exporting it for four. The purchase of the Tignanello estate in 1900 marked the beginning of a remarkable period of expansion which shows no signs of abating. Through judicious acquisition of vineyards and an uncanny knack for developing iconic wines, Antinori has become Tuscany's – arguably Italy's – pre-eminent wine producer.

PINOT NOIRgrapes are grown around the world, mostly in the cooler regions, but the grape is chiefly associated with the Burgundy region of France. Other regions that have gained a reputation for Pinot Noir include America, California, South Africa, South Australia, Tasmania, Australia and the wine regions of New Zealand. Pinot Noir is also a primary variety used in sparkling wine production in Champagne and other wine regions.

MENCIA is a medium-bodied red wine grape that produces high quality wines with floral and red fruit flavours. If you've never heard of it, it's not surprising, Mencia only grows in Spain and Portugal on the Iberian peninsula. If you love Pinot Noir you will love this.

The Roses

CHÂTEAU MINUTY was purchased in 1936 by the Matton-Farnet family and soon after, the vineyards were completely replanted with a focus on traditional, local grape varieties, painstakingly farmed to produce lower yields. By the 1960s, this quality-led approach had paid dividends as the wines of Château Minuty became a fixture on the lists of the finest restaurants of the Côte d'Azur. A négociant arm was added to the business in 1995, applying their quality-focus and production know-how to a complementary range of branded wines under the Minuty label. This foresight and dedication cemented their position as one of the most-recognised producers in the region, long before the explosion in popularity of delicate, pale rosés that has occurred in recent years.

Dessert Wine & Port

SAUSKA Christian Sauska is a Hungarian entrepreneur who, having established his career in the USA, decided in 1999 to establish a winery in his homeland. In 2000 he converted a historic building in Tokaj, formerly known as the Citizens' Casino, into a production facility and tasting room. This was joined in 2006 by a new winery the other side of Hungary, in Villány. With red varieties grown in the latter region and white grapes in the former, Sauska is able to produce exemplary wines in numerous different styles. Gorgeously rich yet precisely balanced, this classic Tokaji Late Harvest Cuvée presents flavours of dried peach, apricot and toffee, all cut with a zesty citrus note. There is intensity and power here, but a lightness of touch that makes it decidedly moreish.
